

Rules for the allocation of M-modules via LSF for the winter semester 2024/25:

- The M-Modules will be given in 2 consecutive phases:
Phase 1: 01/09/2024 – 15/09/2024 (allocation by priority)
Phase 2: 05/10/2024|09:00 – 09/10/2024 (registration|waiting list)
- The LSF system checks your course of study: only students enrolled in the following courses of study can take a M-Module place:
  - M. Sc. Biologie – zweijährige Variante
  - B. Sc. Biologie International / B. Sc. Biochemie Plus International
  - M. Sc. Biochemie / M. Sc. Biochemistry International
- The modules can be selected via course in the LSF:

Phase 1 - allocation by priority:

- The time of voting is not relevant.
- In phase 1, you will set priorities.
- You can assign a priority to each module, i.e. each group in the course.
- For each group, you can set a personal priority using a drop-down list (e.g. apply for place priority 1 (high), apply for place priority 2 (less high), priority 10 (low),...). You can enter as many priorities as there are groups.
- The chance of getting a module increases if you specify many modules.
- You should not prioritise modules that you do not want to take.
- For more information on priority setting, please see WIKI HHU LSF
- Special features:
  - Please indicate whether you would like to take one or two modules in this semester by prioritising the option you would like to have.

- If you would like to take two modules, it is recommended that you take module 4474 Integrative Topics in Life Science. If you would like to take the module, you would have to assign a priority to module 4474 in the course Belegung Mastermodule Wintersemester | Master modules allocation winter term
- In addition, you would have to enter priorities for the working groups of your choice in the ITILS course in LSF. Again, you only need to prioritise the working groups in which you would like to complete a 6-week internship. Prioritizing more groups increases your chances.

- Phase 2 - Registration | waiting list

- In the last phase you can register for M modules, but you are not directly admitted to the module.
- After the last phase, the lecturers decide on admission to the module.
- For example, you can try to choose further modules or be put on the waiting list for a module that is already fully booked.
- Registration takes place directly in the individual module courses in the LSF (e.g.: 4405).
